

RESIDENTIAL BUILDING PERMIT APPLICATION

Additions, alterations, decks, pools, porches, garage, sheds, gazebos, pergolas or new houses require permits.

The application requires the following information before it may be processed:

- a. 2 copies of plans (drawings) - describing the work to be performed w/dimensions, cross section in sufficient detail to determine code requirements i.e. photo or brochure of pre-built shed, plans for shed, plans for deck, (we have informational handout for decks and pools).
- b. Application for Zoning Review – is required if it will change the footprint or outline of the building or adds a structure to the property.(AC units , sheds, generators, and tanks change the footprint.) Permit fee is $15.00
- c. 1 copy of official plot plan with changes in ink showing where the structure or add-on is to be placed/positioned or located (must be drawn "TO SCALE"). Changes need to be initialed and dated and show the distances to the property lines. (Copies are $1.00 each).
- d. Applications for new single family residences also need a Certificate of Occupancy fee of $25.00.

More information on out buildings

Sheds have to be on the rear half of the property, a minimum of 5' from the property line and no more than an average roof height of 15' high.

Sheds under 200 sq. ft. and free-standing decks under 200 sq. ft. and less than 30" from the ground do not require a building permit. A zoning permit and plot plan is still required.

Free standing accessory structures with an area of 600 sq ft or less and an eave height of 10ft or less does not require frost protection.

Footings & free-standing accessory structures as exempted above shall be supported on undisturbed natural soils or engineered fill and shall be anchored to resist wind-induced uplift and overturning.
