How do you remember a loved one?

Our beloved Lucy Robbins Welles Library would not be the facility you see today if it was not for the vision of Miss Fanny Augusta Welles. Miss Welles honored her mother, Lucy Robbins Welles, by bequeathing a piece of property and $10,000 in 1920 to “construct a library building”. Fanny’s dream did not come to fruition until 1939 when the doors to the Lucy Robbins Welles Library first opened to the public. But oh, what a lasting legacy she left in memory of her mother.
